

ELDERLY ANGRY OVER ALARM FEE

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

HONITON Senior Council has urged its members to be vigilant following the decision by East Devon District Council (EDDC) to introduce charges for the Home Safeguard community alarm service.

The Home Safeguard service provides a 24 hour contact for elderly people whereby a piece of equipment is provided in their homes. The equipment can be used to summon assistance should someone, for example, suffer a fall.

Currently customers aged over 80 and in receipt of benefits are not charged for the service. However, from September 1st this year a small charged will be introduced except in cases of genuine hardship.

Secretary of the senior council, Tony Simpson, said: "We are going to pursue the issue because we think if cuts have to be made they shouldn't be imposed on people who are vulnerable and the elderly.

"We have been in touch with our sister organisations in Axminster, Seaton and Sidmouth and we will be taking this up with the Senior Council for Devon at the annual meeting on October 1st."

A spokesman for EDDC said: "Tenants of EDDC's sheltered housing stock using Home Safeguard will experience no change in their situation. They already pay a support charge on their rents.

"Members deliberated long and hard over the question of charging for the alarm service for other clients, and the decision was not taken lightly.

"It should be understood that no other alarm provider issues free alarms. EDDC is coming into line with the rest of the market at a time when the council cannot continue to subsidise the cost of this service. However, our prices are still cheaper than most of our competitors.

"The council could not invest in TeleCare options and develop the service without a fair charging policy. We greatly value our reputation for reliability and good customer service and we will manage this transition in a customer focused rather than in a purely commercial way."

The spokesman added that those in hardship could be eligible for welfare benefits designed to meet the cost of the service.

Honiton Senior Council will be holding an open meeting and coffee morning at 10.30am on Monday, September 7th at the Royal British Legion Club. To contact Mr Simpson, call 01404 548228.

"A local teenager has been arrested in connection with the incident and released on police bail."

There were no details with regards to location of the alleged incident but the statement asked for help from members of the public, saying: "The enquiry is at an early stage and anyone with any information is asked to call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111 quoting crime reference KN/09/491."

FIREFIGHTERS assisted a lady who had locked herself out of her Colyton house.

The call came in at 10.48am on Saturday, August 15th and a unit was despatched to a property in Queen's Square.

The lady's husband was inside the house but unable to open the door.

A fire and rescue service spokesperson said: "One fire appliance from Colyton attended with Crew Commander Bartlett in charge.

"Fire crews gained access to the property through an open window using a short extension ladder."

Man injured by aerosol

A MAN suffered burns when an aerosol can exploded in a bonfire at Weycroft Avenue, Axminster.

"The fire service extinguished the bonfire and the male was taken to hospital by ambulance."

Shopping spree for winning lady

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A SEATON woman will go on a shopping spree in New York after winning £1,000 in a UK-wide, free prize draw.

There were 35,489 entries in the Age Concern prize draw and Rosemary White's ticket was the winner.

So it was a real surprise for her when she took a phone call informing her of the win.

She said: "I've never won anything in my life so this is a wonderful surprise. "I'm looking forward to treating myself with the money, and am planning a big shopping spree to New York which is something I've always wanted to do — thank you Age Concern."

She travelled to Exeter on Thursday, August 13th to pick up her cheque. It was presented by the trading manager for Age Concern Devon, David Cotton, and trading arranger, Angela Cressey.

Mr Cotton said: "We are all very delighted for Mrs White and really excited that someone from our local area won the £1,000."

The prize draw ran throughout the UK from April 1st to June 30th to promote Age Concern Enterprises' financial products, and Mrs White became the draw's third winner this year.

All net profits generated by Age Concern Enterprises are donated to Age Concern and Help the Aged, to support the charitable work the charity carries out.

Another free prize draw is currently running until September 30th. Those wishing to try their luck can visit their local Age Concern branch for an entry form. Entrants must be over 18.

Rising star gets recall

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

A YOUNGSTER from Seaton could soon be about to star in London's West End.

Thomas Broderick has been attending the Confidence drama school, which is held at Seaton Primary School, for only one term and has already impressed enough to be handed leading roles in several of the group's productions.

On Monday, August 10th the young thespian attended an audition for Oliver which shows at the world famous Drury Lane theatre. The audition went well and Thomas has earned a recall for a second audition that will take place sometime in October.

Sara Perry, leader of the drama group, admitted that she was very proud of Thomas' achievement.

She said: "This is really massive especially seeing as it was his first ever audition, it is great for the school as well.

"The judges at the audition are really picky about who they accept. The kids have to be under five foot tall, can't have braces and things like that.

"He had to be able to commit to the role and that was a hard decision especially because he is living down here. But his parents are behind him and it is excellent news that he got a recall."

Flood residents given more time to apply for protection

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

RESIDENTS in Ottery St Mary and across east Devon have been given more time to apply for a flood protection grant.

The money is being administered by the Environment Agency, Devon County Council (DCC) and East Devon District Council (EDDC) and can be used to buy products to protect homes.

In July a Flood Fair was held at the King's School in Ottery and a deadline for applications was set. This has now been extended until Wednesday, September 30th.

The funding pot is limited to £35,000 and each applicant can ask for up to £500 or 80 percent of the cost of the product, whichever is the smaller amount.

Stuart Hughes, DCC cabinet member for Highways and Transportation, said: "This is a golden opportunity for anyone who has either suffered from flooding recently or whose home is at risk of flooding to secure some funding towards taking preventative action of their own.

"The Flood Fair held at Ottery St Mary was a huge success with many products on display that appeared to be very simple to install.

"The grants being made available through this scheme will be of considerable benefit to people."

Stephen Marks, flood incident manager at the Environment Agency, added: "This is a fantastic opportunity for people to apply for money to buy things to help them protect themselves from flooding.

"Flooding can happen very quickly, so it's often homeowners who are best placed to protect their property from flooding. We are working with EDDC and DCC to help people to help themselves."

EDDC say not all applications will be successful and is urging residents not to purchase a product on the expectation of receiving a grant.

To apply for the funding residents must fill out application forms that are available from town and parish councils. The forms are also available from EDDC's offices in Sidmouth.

Once completed they should be emailed to jo.richards@environment-agency.gov.uk or sent to Flood Recovery Group, c/o Jo Richards, Manley House, Kestrel Way, Sowton, Exeter, Devon, EX2 7LQ.

Town's car parks buck the district trend figure

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

ALL roads may not lead to Axminster but many motorists park there.

During the financial year of 2008-09, East Devon District Council (EDDC) took a total of just over £187,240 from its Coombe Lane, Poplar Mount, South Street and West Street car parks.

That figure alone may not tell much, but it is an increase on the previous financial year by more than £14,400 — and is in stark contrast to the district trend.

Council car parks in places like Beer, Seaton, Colyton, Ottery, Honiton and Sidmouth, for example, took less money in 2008-09 compared to the previous financial year.

The big earner in Axminster is West Street's short stay car park, which took £99,471 — a jump from £89,628 the previous year.

Axminster district councillor Douglas Hull provided the statistics and has informed Axminster's chamber of commerce and town council.

The fact that Axminster has niche shops as opposed to "kiss me quick hats" is one reason given by councillor Hull's for Axminster's apparent pulling power.

EDDC offered an alternative idea, a spokesperson saying: "The last time car parking charges were revised was in March 2008.

"They were frozen this year to take account of the recession.

"We have no scientific explanation for the takings in Axminster rising while other towns have seen their takings fall.

"However, the enforcement of on-street parking regulations over the past year will have encouraged more motorists to park legally in a car park across the district.

"One theory is that in the case of Axminster, which has a more compact town centre than many other towns, with car parks relatively close to each other, the enforcement of on-street parking regulations may be that much more effective as officers can cover most of the town centre in a single working day."

But not all is well and Axminster Town Council will make a number of suggestions as part of EDDC's ongoing car park review.

Among other things, councillors say there is no adequate coach parking in the town and current car park charges are too high.

Councillors also believe there is a need for more parking spaces, especially when rail services to and from Axminster increase at the end of the year.

The 2008-09 statistics for the other towns are (2007-08 in brackets): Beer £181,370 (£188,407), Seaton £125,054 (£143,279), Ottery £78,458 (£88,299), Honiton £333,623 (£344,010), Colyton £9,011 (£10,168), Sidmouth £597,552 (£621,791).

Across the whole district, EDDC took £2,602,376 during 2008-09, compared to £2,691,697 the previous financial year.

All figures are inclusive of VAT.

Unit gets its permission from EDDC

A PLAN by North Devon College to house a motorcycle repair workshop and classroom facilities at a unit on Honiton's Heathpark Industrial Estate has been given the go ahead.

The application was put forward at the end of June and planning officers from East Devon District Council (EDDC) have this week given it the thumbs up.

East Devon District Council's economic development officer, Nigel Harrison, said: "I welcome this proposal to extend the range of skill training and development available to local young people and adults and am happy to support this application."

Honiton town councillors had also given the plan their full support.

Fundraising barn dance

HONITON Pantomime Society will be holding a fund raising barn dance at Awliscombe Village Hall on Saturday, September 5th.

The event will run from 7pm until 10pm and all money raised will go towards the society's silver anniversary production of Cinderella.

Tickets cost £8 for adults and £6 for children under 16. A ploughman's supper is included. A bar will also be available.

ANDERS LARSSON

Swine flu fear

I DIDN'T realise how fearful other countries are of English swine flu until I went on holiday at the end of July.

Spending two weeks in my native Sweden was a nice break from the daily routine, but I was met with constant suspicion.

Whilst many of the remarks could have passed for light-hearted banter, I detected an underlying fear that I was a ticking swine flu bomb despatched by enemy forces and about to detonate.

"I hope you didn't bring that swine flu with you from England" or words to that effect greeted me more or less on a daily basis.

It was actually the first question my dad asked me as I stepped off the airport train in Malmö.

And you should have seen my fellow Swedes' faces when I developed a cough only a few days into my holiday.

One bloke initially insisted I travelled in the back seat of his car as opposed to the front passenger seat — not that I could see what difference it would make.

The fact that the second passenger had spent a day in London when changing flights didn't exactly ease the worries of our unfortunate driver.

I told him that swine flu actually seems to be a Mexican invention, but my argument failed to cut any ice and resulted in an oratory involving England, Mad Cow Disease, Foot and Mouth and swine flu.

Yes, my cough could have been a symptom of swine flu. But the fact that I took vigorous exercise and sent people packing in various racquet sports should have been enough to make the assorted Swedes realise it was nothing more than a harmless cough.

We all have our fears and worries, and I don't really mean to joke about a relatively serious issue. I say relatively serious because we aren't talking Ebola or Black Death here, are we?

And, more to the point, why single out residents of England for crying out loud? Yes, we had had a number of cases when I went on holiday, but which nation hadn't?

By all means, blame us for bringing bad weather — but not swine flu. I use the words "we" and "us" in the loosest of senses as I'm not exactly a local.

A fact I was recently reminded of when a fellow Axminster resident sent me a text message.

The message kindly informed me that the new emergency phone number for immigrants like myself to use is 089845457687542 3434468896786...and so on — a number so long you would probably die before you've finished dialling!

With friends like that, who needs enemies?

◆ NIECE Olivia keeping up to date with local news

Anyway, it was a lovely holiday despite the poor weather. And, believe it or not, not everyone looked at me with suspicion.

My two-year-old niece, Olivia, and the family dog, Akke, were examples of that as they greeted me with their usual enthusiasm and didn't ask any awkward questions.

But leaving Sweden on August 5th wasn't the end of the swine flu panic, though. I called my brother the next Sunday for a chat. The day before I had been to Leeds for The Grecians' first game of the season, yelling myself hoarse.

At the end of our conversation my brother admitted that, before realising I had been to football, he thought my bad voice was swine flu related and they needed to get themselves checked out!

Police team is recruiting

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A DIRECT messaging scheme has been in operation for six months, and the neighbourhood policing team at Axminster wants more to join.

To achieve the aim, members of the public can now join online.

Officially known as the Community Messaging Scheme, it is a way for the town's police to make immediate contact with residents by a recorded telephone message or email.

It is used to warn residents of scams and bogus callers, to seek information about crimes, to ask for help in locating missing persons and much more.

The scheme's most prominent achievements so far include playing a part in:

■ The arrest of a door-to-door salesman who had links to distraction burglaries.

■ The arrest of two Chinese males for selling contraband tobacco. Both males were in the country illegally.

■ Locating and identifying tarmacers who were breaching Trading Standards regulations.

Sergeant Peter Trudgeon said: "Since starting the scheme over 1,600 homes have signed up. That's almost a third of the homes in the area. Police are keen to get everyone on the scheme."

"It has massive benefits to both the police and residents and is helping to build a safer place for residents to live."

At the launch of the scheme Sergeant Trudgeon said he would be relatively happy with a take-up rate of 80-90 per cent.

Police have signed people up by going from door to door, which has proved quite time-consuming.

Registration forms are also available in selected outlets but police have also decided to offer online registration.

The registration form is available at neighbourhoodpolicing.devon-cornwall.police.uk — without the www.

Key in your postcode in the relevant field to access the Axminster police page.

The website also has pictures of your neighbourhood team, news of what they are doing and dates of when they will be in your area for contact.

The Axminster police force covers Axminster town, All Saints, Chardstock, Dalwood, Hawkchurch, Kilminster, Membury, Musbury, Shute, Stockland, Uplyme, Whitford

Young volunteers help during summer break

BY BEN MIDDLETON
ben@hindlenews.co.uk

YOUNG volunteers in Honiton have spent a week of their summer holidays cleaning up The Glen.

The youngsters from Honiton Youth Centre have completely rebuilt a flight of rustic steps, repaired a damaged fence and cut and removed about five tonnes of overgrown Laurel.

Working with Alan Fowler, Dave Seal and Barry Bending from East Devon District Council's (EDDC) StreetScene service, the volunteers had to shift all the materials needed at the site by hand, including about two tonnes of stone scalplings for the path.

The five tonnes of timber that was cut also had to be carried out by hand from the stream valley.

EDDC's youth champion, Iain Chubb, said: "I'm delighted to see the fine work these young people have done to improve their neighbourhood.

"It just goes to show what can be done by a small group of enthusiastic volunteers who really care about their neighbourhood."

A spokesperson for the Glen Regeneration Group added: "We welcome volunteers to help with the work, especially younger people who care about their environment."

Former Child of the Year will celebrate turning 18

◆ A FORMER Pulman's Weekly News Child of the Year competition winner is about to turn 18. Lisa White (pictured right), of Dalwood, won the competition in 1992. Child of the Year ran throughout the early 90s and attracted hundreds of entries every year. The winning child received a framed picture, a trophy and there was also a write up in the paper. The former Axe Valley student took a year out from her studies but is due to start a course at the Richard Huish College in Taunton in September. She is set to study accountancy, business studies, geography and performance art. She is also heavily involved with the Axminster Young Farmers Club. Lisa will be celebrating her birthday on Friday, August 21st and mum and dad, Margaret and Derek, said there is going to be a surprise in store for their first born

Swift decline of butterflies turns around

READERS may recall that I mentioned the sighting of a mystery bird at one of my feeders in the garden. Brown, with the appearance of a nutcracker but lacking the white flecks which define this bird, it darted onto the nut-dispenser, had a quick peck and then vanished.

The mystery is now solved and I am mortified. Mike Tyler who leads the Axe Estuary Ringing Group points out that this was nothing more exotic than a young starling! Now, of course, I realise how right he is. Admittedly, in my defence, the sighting was only a brief glimpse but I should have known better. Mike reminds me that during the six years he was Devon County Bird Recorder he regularly received calls at this time of the year relating to nutcracker sightings on peanut holders, all of which were, of course, juvenile starlings, sackcloth and ashes.

However, no problem identifying the many butterflies which have been feasting on a large buddleia in the garden during the recent sunny weather. The purple-flowered bush has been shimmering with peacocks, red admirals, the three whites . . . large, small and green-veined . . . painted ladies and, best of all, dozens of small tortoiseshells. The previous two or three summers had seen a swift and dramatic decline in these lovely butterflies due, it was thought, to the assaults of a parasitic fly which attacks the larvae and certainly, last year I could have counted the number of small tortoiseshells seen on one hand.

However, last autumn there was an influx of these butterflies from the Continent into the southern counties of England and it would appear that they hibernated and have successfully produced a substantial number of offspring. It may well be that the parasitic fly which caused the initial problem created its own downfall by wiping out its host.

Butterflies do have the ability to bounce back from a down-turn, given reasonable weather conditions and food supplies. Only a few days ago I spent several hours watching for roe deer in the rut on a large Hampshire estate. The woodland was criss-crossed by broad rides, most of which were fringed with wild flowers, and notably thistles. It was a warm, muggy day and the sunlight filtered through the trees and lit up the rides which were alive with speckled woods, gatekeepers and silver-washed fritillaries. It was an encouraging sight and makes me believe that this year, despite the rains in July, may well prove to be a notable one for butterflies.

Incidentally, this particular estate, not far from Basingstoke, is now over-run by muntjac deer and it is proving extremely difficult, if not impossible, to control and manage their numbers. Small, weighing only around 30-40lbs, these deer breed year-round, are secretive and hide away in thick cover. First introduced to Woburn by the 11th Duke of Bedford in 1984, the Chinese muntjac is now rapidly colonising the countryside and is prolific in the Midlands and much of southern England. So far there have been only sporadic reports of its presence in the West Country but I have not the slightest doubt that it will infiltrate the region in substantial numbers over the next decade or so. As soon as we receive reports of road casualties then one may be certain that the population is well established.

With its hunch-backed appearance and small size, the deer is really unmistakable as, too, is the destruction it can cause, particularly to gardens. An expanding population can also bring severe damage to the environment, particularly to woodland under-storey growth, such as bluebells and other ground flora. In their favour, muntjac are excellent table fare, and compare favourably with roe. If any readers think they have spotted muntjac I would be very interested to hear from them.

Show success for local YFC

THE visit to the recent Honiton Show proved extremely worthwhile for Axminster Young Farmers' Club and its members.

The club finished overall fourth in the young farmers' club (YFC) tent, narrowly missing out on third place.

Points are gained by both individual efforts and club entries in classes ranging from flower arranging to photography and from cake making to having the best silage sample.

Club chairman Vicki Thomas led by example by, for the second year running, winning the overall trophy for the female with the most points.

She did so with a huge entry of over 40 classes, winning prizes in classes including a painting class and digitally manipulated photograph.

There was also success for members in the cattle showing ring.

In the YFC class for dairy animals aged under 12 months, Vicki Thomas again showed her range of skills by winning second prize with her pedigree Holstein East Hill Thelma.

In the class for over 12 months of age, Phil Bird won bronze with Davlea Master lulu, but the top prize was taken by Mark Herrod with his heifer Bettiscombe Final Cut Daisy.

Vicki said: "I am extremely pleased to have won the trophy again but was also delighted to see some of the other members trying stuff they usually wouldn't do and winning some prizes."

"It was very good to see Axminster members winning in the cattle ring as we have not had entries here, let alone won anything, for many years."

CHARD TOWN COUNCIL August 2009

Newsletter

Town Clerk Writes ...

It's Summer - and the town looks resplendent! Once again our Amenities Staff have done a wonderful job with the flowerbeds and the hanging baskets. Many towns people and businesses have purchased hanging baskets and together with those supplied by the Council we are in a good state to receive the South West In Bloom judges who will decide if we have done enough to rise to Gold standard. There are many aspects to entering this competition, the entries into the Neighbourhood Awards - ten this year, the efforts by the school children of the town and also the effort by our band of volunteers from Chard in Bloom. A true team effort.

The impending work within the Guildhall has generally met with wide approval. I say 'generally' because the old adage of 'you can't please all of the people all of the time' is never more true than in local government and especially where The Guildhall is concerned. I have not received one letter, or phone call, of objection to the Council's plans but sadly a few people have penned their complaints in the Guildhall comments book located in the foyer. I wonder if these same people, who rarely sign their names or give their addresses will be the same people who will come and ask for help or advice when the work is finished?

At the next Town Council meeting members will decide whether or not to opt for the use of The Power of Wellbeing. This is a power that has been enjoyed by the District and County Councils for some time but has only been extended to Town and Parish Councils from the 2007 Local Government and Public Involvement in Health Act. Chard Town Council now fits the criteria for opting to use this power that is very far reaching and allows the Council to spend money, or support any project or activity, not just within Chard but now, for the first time, outside of Chard. This opens up the possibility of being able to work much more closely with surrounding parishes through 'partnering' and 'clustering' of resources. Without the Power of Wellbeing this is simply not possible so acquiring the power opens up many opportunities. Chard is certainly moving forward and positioning itself as a leader within the wider community.

John Furze, Town Clerk

Chard's Community Development Officer

It's been 6 months since I joined the team in Area West and my workload has mainly been taken up with getting to know everyone, finding out who's who and what's already going on in Chard. I feel like I've settled in now, although I'm continually amazed by everything that happens in the town. So what does a Community Development Officer do? My role is about working with local groups to help them identify issues and develop solutions.

I work closely with Rob Murray on the work with the Chard Regeneration Scheme, consulting with the young people of Chard, and I will be getting more closely involved with the Community Forum. The next one will be looking at the implementation plans for the scheme in September. We are also planning to have a big public event to launch the scheme and get approval from the wider community.

I've been looking at the Arts provision in Chard and speaking to local groups to find out their issues. Several projects have come out of the work, which include: developing a database of the venues available for hire; looking at the possibility of having a 'Whats on' webpage for Chard and holding a networking event for arts based groups. I'm also in the process of submitting an application for funding to help improve Chard's retail streets by providing money for shop front improvements and getting art displays by local artists and students in to empty shops. If successful I hope to start work on the project in January.

I think Chard is a great place to live and work but in some cases it's the perception people have of the area that lets it down. By building on the good partnership working which is already happening across the District, Town and County Council, and getting local people more involved with the decisions, Chard will grow and flourish.

Claire Littlejohn

Jocelyn Park Playbuilder Project

The purpose of this report is to inform everyone of the work process to date of the Jocelyn Playbuilder project. Government investment through the Department for Children, Schools and Families (DCSF) awarded Somerset a grant of £1.1 million in 2007. The County Council received the funding and allocated amounts to each District. The SSDC allocation was £278k. Jocelyn Park was one of several sites in South Somerset that was identified in a site prioritisation process undertaken by SSDC staff and the portfolio holder for possible improvements in play.

A few months ago Sandra Pittwood, Office Manager, and myself attended a presentation given by Play officers at SSDC where we were informed that Jocelyn Park was within 2009/10 provisional funding programme. We were also informed that Barnardo's would be assisting us in the consultation at no cost to the Town Council. In mid April Barnardo's met with us and the Amenities Chairman to discuss the project and the consultation process. We also helped Barnardo's with a view of our local knowledge of Jocelyn Park. In early June we were invited by SSDC to meet six potential landscape design companies, for ours and other projects in South Somerset. This was an all day presentation and a necessary part of the project programme. A decision as to which company we decide to engage with is yet to be made. We recently met representatives from two of these firms at Jocelyn Park so they could have a better understanding of our site and give us their ideas.

Finally both Sandra and I along with a play officer visited two successfully completed playbuilder sites in Taunton, this was done to get a better idea on design for our own innovative project. This concludes my report.

Cllr Mrs Jenny Kenton, Cllr Stephen Dowell, Cllr Garry Shortland

The Mayor Writes ...

In my first newsletter, I want to thank everyone who has sent kind letters, made phone calls, and stopped either myself, or Garry, in the street to congratulate me on becoming your Mayor. I am immensely proud to be the seventh lady Mayor of Chard. My first few weeks have been hectic, and both Garry and I have been touched by the kindness and generous hospitality we have received whilst attending civic functions. It was especially pleasing to see so many friends at the Mayor Making ceremony in the Guildhall.

As Mayor, I get to choose a charity for my year and I have chosen the various Cancer Charities. Please join with me over the coming year to help raise as much as possible for these very worthwhile causes. Sadly, cancer is something that appears to affect every family, and survival rates are better now than they have ever been, but the research organisations and the support charities need every penny they can get. I hope you will help me make this a really special Charity Year. If your company, or group, are holding a fund raising event please consider giving a proportion of the funds raised to the 'Mayor's Appeal Fund' - and if you would like me to attend your event please do contact the office.

There are many challenges ahead of Chard and its Council in the year ahead. The effects of the economic crisis are felt everywhere and Chard is not immune to them. Nevertheless, the town is picking itself up and once again starting to take its rightful place within the wider community. The Regeneration Plan is starting to unfold and there are many opportunities available to us that we must grab as they pass by - if we don't, we might not get another chance. Your Council is eager to be close to you and in-touch with your needs and aspirations. Do please stop us in the street, drop in at the Councillors Surgeries, send us letters, or just pick up the phone and let us know what YOU want for our town. If we are doing something right - tell us! Equally, if you feel we are out of step please do tell us. Together, we can achieve anything - if we all pull together. Chard has a long history of rising from difficult times, with head held high. I am sure this will be no different but it does need us to work together and to keep our community strong.

Jill Shortland, Mayor

A View From The Ward - Holyrood

I have been a councillor for nearly two years and, in that time, I and a few of my fellow councillors have found the wheels of the democratic process are well oiled but still seem to turn slow and things do get done. I am pleased to see that the roads on the Halcombe Estate have been resurfaced, thus removing the pot holes which presents a hazard to both bike and car users alike.

I was saddened, a few weeks ago, to see the vandalism that was done to both the flower caterpillar, near the Chard School playground and Crowshute House a much used venue, but was pleased that the Cats (Chard Amateur Theatre Society) younger members, the Kittens, could still put on their show on Wednesday the 7th. Indeed I may be a biased father of one of the Kittens who had taken part, but I was proud to see all of the younger pantomime stars of the future enjoying both dancing singing and playing instruments to such a high standard, Chard should be proud of the talents we have not only with this particular organization, but all the organizations within Chard run for the youth of Chard and the surrounding area.

I hope with the future plans to move the Town Council Offices into the Guildhall will mean that the Council is more accessible to the public. This is what my fellow Councillors and I feel is needed for Chard. The changes to the Guildhall, I feel, are long overdue. This will make use of space, which is now used infrequently, and turned into the Town Council Offices. If you have a problem in the ward please don't hesitate to contact me, my telephone number is available on the town council website which is <http://www.chard.gov.uk> or by telephoning the Town Council on 01460 260378

Councillor David J E Orchard

Moving In And Moving On ...

The Town Clerk and administration staff are moving into a purpose built office facility in the Guildhall, bringing the Town Council closer to the people of Chard. This will create a 'one stop shop' for members of the public to contact their local Council. Extra cabling, which will facilitate internal communication networking and electrics, is being installed in preparation for the move to the Guildhall. Indeed to date something in excess of 14,000 metres of cabling has been used and it is not finished yet. This work is being funded from Council reserves and will not cause an increase in the precept next year. The vision for Chard Town Council is consolidation and communication, making us more accessible to those we serve.

Our Senior Management team, how to contact them ...

Consider food issue in supermarket war

EDITOR — I have read with interest many of the letters relating to the proposed development of supermarkets around east Devon.

Understandably, many of the points raised are fairly parochial ones, relating to promised facilities for the town involved, benefits for the local economy, creation of jobs etc.

I would like to introduce a slightly different perspective which I have not seen in these discussions — that of food security.

Whilst these companies display a spectrum of ethical standards which probably ranges from Tesco at the bottom to the Co-op at the top, the concept of the supermarket itself and its effect on food retailing has several very fundamentally destructive effects on our local economies, the environment and our communities.

We should also recognise that we are almost certainly at the peak of the supermarket era and that their dominance will now decline.

Many of the arguments relating to loss of local jobs, damage to the local economy and the broader environmental harm caused by supermarkets are well documented and aired.

The tricks and gimmicks these supermarket chains use to bribe people into accepting their stores will be shown up for what they are.

However, the issue of food security is one which will now increasingly come to the fore. It is also an increasingly topical issue which many of us are responding to by growing our own, buying organic and supporting local produce.

This trend towards the local is to be welcomed and encouraged and it will gradually undermine the insidious effect of supermarkets on our everyday lives.

Perhaps most importantly it will empower many people to recognise the power we all have in determining our future.

Thus, for every purchase of local produce we make we are supporting a local grower — conversely that same expenditure in the supermarket is denying that income to local growers.

But each time we buy local growers' produce we not only reduce our environmental impact but we are giving something back to our community rather than denying it to them.

Food security then is something under our control — for those who recognise it.

At present, we are all at the mercy of the financial decisions made by supermarket chains. And when the energy crisis really starts to bite, which it inevitably will in the near future, we will become painfully aware of our vulnerability resulting from our dependence on these retail giants.

So, I would ask all who follow the discussions relating to new supermarkets to consider the issues in this broader context.

We may have come to accept this way of shopping as normal, much as we accepted the recent artificial growth in the financial sector, but we are inevitably coming to a period of sober reflection and recognition of the wider costs this has, for all of us as well as to the environment.

Group builds a head of steam

EDITOR — Lizzie Bewsher and the Stand up for Seaton gang are certainly building up a head of steam over the Tesco proposals.

Along with James Semple, who has mounted a legal challenge over the Tesco plans and who has thereby delayed the decision making process by 6 weeks, they are certainly showing that they are more an anti-Tesco forum, than a Seaton regeneration forum.

They should look as carefully at the Sainsbury's plans as they have at those from Tesco.

As I understand it, a visitors' centre cannot be built over a food store.

The underground car park planned will be beneath the flood plain level and a large reservoir has to be built which can pump water out of the car park when it floods.

The reservoir would itself have to be built beneath the flood level.

There are several other unanswered question about the Sainsbury's plan, just as there are unresolved issues in the Tesco plan.

Never judge a plan by a set of drawings. Only a detailed assessment and consultation with the district and county councils, with all of their planning and legal powers, can arrive at a decision.

The town council is very small beer in all this and Stand up 4 Seaton is even smaller.

My feeling is that all the anti-Tesco huff-and-puff will rebound against them when the matter comes up for key discussion on September 15th.

I would just like the regeneration process to be kick started by the scale of investment that has been articulated in the plans of both Tesco and Sainsbury's.

My overriding concern is for the future of the old camp site if Tesco have to back out?

They have set aside £9 million to raise the level of the site to that required for any commercial or residential development and have the resources to pump landfill in from the sea and remove water by the same process.

The camp site has offered a good commercial and rate return since the second world war and it is difficult to imagine how, in present circumstances, it can return to a viable commercial project if left as it is.

Locals should visit museum

EDITOR — Having lived and worked in this town all my life I am amazed that so many locals have not visited the Heritage Museum and don't even know where it is or what it is all about.

Thomas Whitty put Axminster on the map and the name of Axminster is world famous due to him and his skills. I know I am somewhat prejudiced having worked for Axminster Carpets for over 48 years, but, honestly, the story is a fascinating one and one we should all be very proud to be associated with.

I have always thought that Axminster undersells itself and we have so very much of which to be proud, Danny Jaffe and his feather factory, Axminster Power Tools to name but two.

Do come along and have a look at the Heritage Museum in Thomas Whitty House, Silver Street. It will cost you nothing unless you choose to buy a pen or a postcard and it does represent our heritage in Axminster.

Book success

EDITOR — Thank you Dalwood. On Sunday, August 2nd you helped me launch my book My Name is Matilda, the life of my great, great grandmother from Dalwood Hill Farm.

So many villagers contributed while I was over here doing the research and I was gratified so many of you joined in the celebration of its publication.

My thanks to the Tuckers Arms for hosting it and to Archway Bookshop in stocking the book. My thanks to you all for making it a great success.

Slugs have feelings too

EDITOR — I was visiting Axminster last Tuesday, July 14th when I noticed the free newspaper.

I decided to read it when I got home, well when I read the Star Letter I felt sick and had to reply by email.

I agree slug pellets are awful but so is cutting a poor slug in half and the crushing of the Elegant snails, I wonder if Claire Wise would like to be cut in half and crushed, all animals and creatures have feelings.

Also she is herself taking the natural food away from the birds and hedgehogs. Nature has put the flowers and shrubs for wildlife to eat. I am an Atheist but if Claire is religious then perhaps she will have to answer to HIM in the long run.

Link event unites town

EDITOR — The Colyton Link held a very successful coffee morning in Colyton Town Hall on Saturday, August 1st attended by large numbers from throughout the parish.

This was our first social event since Colyford joined the Colyton Link earlier this year.

We were so glad to see so many Colyford residents both as committee members, stall holders and supporters.

Thanks must go to all those throughout the parish who provided goods for the stalls and to the many who came to buy.

We raised £808. Our only fund raising event of the year.

The money raised is used to provide telephones for our hospital car service, printing, insurance, hire of hall and other administrative expenses.

Any surplus funds are ploughed back into the community.

Enjoyable work experience Flytipping increase

EDITOR — I am writing to thank you and the team for having me in the office recently.

I really enjoyed working as a journalist for the week and going with Ben and Anders to certain jobs.

I am really pleased that some articles that I wrote got into the paper and that I was an inside source for a front page story.

I learnt a lot of things and it has really motivated me to become a journalist in the future. I learnt how to use the camera and how to write 'nibs' and what it stands for, which is news in brief.

When I first arrived I learnt how to put articles onto the website and how to take notes from local notice boards.

I most enjoyed writing the article about Honiton with Ben and I learnt a lot about writing shorthand notes and then typing them up.

My future ambition is to work for one of the national newspapers and this has inspired me to work harder and achieve what I want.

I also got the chance to work with Lucy and use the franking machine for sending out newspaper subscriptions.

Thank you very much and I look forward to coming back in the summer.

EDITOR — Flytipping, which is dangerous and unsightly and undertaken by the lazy and those determined to defraud others, is on the increase.

People cannot be bothered to drive to the nearest tip — and if commercial, pay their dues.

They expect others to clear up behind them.

If your paper is genuinely interested in serving its local community, how about allowing readers to report flytipping sites, describing the contents.

People would recognise the descriptions and could inform you in confidence where it has come from. You could let the relevant authorities know the suspects details and they could then take the necessary action.

An Axminster based clinic's 3D Optical laser Foot scanner and Computer Diagnostic System, some of the most advanced in the world, form part of an innovative service to alleviate foot pain.

Feet can cause us real pain and we may not even know it!

We only have one pair of feet and they take us everywhere so it pays to take good care of them. But most of us don't give our feet a second thought ... that is until they hurt! Once our feet are hurting most of us have no idea how to eliminate the pain. Untreated this can lead to long term problems, many problems associated with the foot are the result of a faulty relationship between the bones and the muscles of the foot. Misalignment can result in a number of problems, commonly flat feet, persistent ankle sprains, bunions, corns, calluses, even symptoms that one would not normally associate with feet such as stress and pain in the back, neck, hips and knees.

AT HEALTHY FEET CHIROPODY AND PODIATRY WE PRESCRIBE AND ISSUE THE VERY BEST FOOT ORTHOTICS USING THE MOST TECHNICALLY ADVANCED EQUIPMENT AVAILABLE ANYWHERE IN THE WORLD TODAY. OUR 3D OPTICAL LASER FOOT SCANNER AND COMPUTER DIAGNOSTIC SYSTEM IS JUST ONE INNOVATIVE METHOD WE USE AGAINST FOOT PAIN IN OUR AXMINSTER BASED FOOT CLINIC.

SO WHAT ARE ORTHOTICS?
Orthotics are special footwear inserts that are individually designed and manufactured to ease your pain and discomfort. They promote the proper alignment of the feet, restore balance, improve sports performance and alleviate pain in the knee, hip and lower back.

HOW DO ORTHOTICS WORK?
As your foot sits comfortably on our orthotic it is gently and consistently directed into the optimum position allowing the foot to function correctly when walking, running and standing.

AT HEALTHY FEET CHIROPODY AND PODIATRY OUR PRESCRIPTION ORTHOTICS ARE MADE TO THE HIGHEST STANDARDS AVAILABLE USING MODERN TECHNOLOGY. ARE COMPLETELY ACCURATE AND PROVIDE THE VERY BEST CORRECTIVE TREATMENT AVAILABLE. Our 3D Optical Laser Foot Scanner replaces the need for traditional plaster casting and drawing around the foot, methods still in use today which are messy, inaccurate, costly and utilizing materials of limited life, requiring frequent replacement. We successfully treat many foot conditions but one common foot condition we see a lot of at our Axminster based clinic is PLANTAR FASCITIS. When your first few steps out of bed in the morning cause severe pain in the heel of your foot, you may have plantar fasciitis (fash-ee-EYE-tiss). It's an overuse injury affecting the sole or flexor surface (plantar) of the foot. A diagnosis of plantar fasciitis means you have inflamed the tough, fibrous band of tissue (fascia) connecting your heel bone to the base of your toes. You're more likely to get the condition if you're overweight, or if you have a job that requires a lot of walking or standing on hard surfaces. You're also at risk if you walk or run for exercise, especially if you have tight calf muscles that limit how far you can flex your ankles. People with very flat feet or very high arches are also more prone to plantar fasciitis.

The condition starts gradually with mild pain at the heel bone often referred to as a stone bruise. You're more likely to feel it after (not during!) exercise. The pain classically occurs again after arising from a midday lunch break. If you don't treat plantar fasciitis, it may become a chronic condition. You may not be able to keep up your level of activity and you may also develop symptoms of foot, knee, hip and back problems because of the way plantar fasciitis changes the way you walk.

REMEMBER YOUR FEET ARE THE FOUNDATION FOR YOUR ENTIRE BODY. If you suffer from foot pain and/or would like to discuss an assessment please call us at Healthy Feet on 01297 631043 we are here to help YOU!

Councillors' concerns for recent crime

TWO serious incidents in Honiton have given councillors cause for concern.

During the recent town council meeting, on Monday, August 10th PC Ian Atyeo said he was unable to give specific details about a rape and a sexual assault that had taken place in the town within the last few weeks.

PC Atyeo also said there had been a drugs raid and heroin had been seized — the raid led to four people being arrested.

However, PC Atyeo stressed that the number of crimes being reported was down compared to the same period the previous year.

Crime writer visits library

Pulman's

View from the churches

THIS week pride of place goes to Christians Together in Seaton and District, who have published a location list and map, together with an invitation to attend one of the local churches. In all, details of the Services of ten churches are listed, together with line drawings of the churches and local maps for Seaton, Axmouth, Colyton and Colyford.

Copies of this information in poster form, and laminated, have been sent to all churches for display. Do look out for the copy in your local church.

From the east of our territory, Father Michael Koppel, Roman Catholic Parish priest of Axminster, Lyme Regis and Seaton writes: "A feature of church life just now is the number of summer visitors we're welcoming to our services. No doubt many of them are looking for sun, sea and sand.

"But in a busy world some of them may also be looking for peace. And, happily, peace is something the countryside can offer. But only up to a point. Disturbance is never far away. But there's a very special peace our Lord offers us. 'My own peace I give you', he once said 'a peace the world cannot give, this is my gift to you'. Now that's a peace no disturbance can shatter."

Still at Axminster, The Minster Church of Mary the Virgin, is the venue for a musical treat on Sunday, August 30th at 3pm when Mike Collins, billed as 'the old crooner' will perform — cream teas are included, tickets £5 from the Archway Bookshop 01297 33744.

Someone known to many in east Devon, is also in the news this week. It has just been announced that Canon Mark Rylands, the Diocesan Missioner for Exeter, has been appointed to be the next Area Bishop of Shrewsbury and so fill one of three such posts in the Diocese of Lichfield. Mark has become well known to local parishes for his work with young people and in developing new ways of ministry in their churches, and latterly in the celebrations for the 1,100th anniversary of Exeter Diocese.

Mark is married to Prebendary Mandy Rylands who is Diocesan Director of Ordinands and Bishop's Adviser for Women's Ministry. Mark will be consecrated at Westminster Abbey on Saturday, October 28th.

Encouraging for the many local families with service connections are the words of the Archbishop of York, Dr John Sentamu, who is on record for saying that service men and women must be properly honoured by the Government, not only in words but also in the spirit.

Turning now to events in our local churches — there was another concert in Colyton in support of the Choir Bursary Fund (which gives support to young choir members for voice training and learning an instrument). It was a recital by Daniel Rudge, former choir member who recently graduated and will be joining the staff of Wells Cathedral School shortly.

The next concert in this series will be on Sunday, August 30th at 3pm in a programme for flute and piano including Gordon Langford's Suite for Piano Duet.

Seven choristers from Colyton Church Choir are attending a residential course at Bath this week. As a finale the course sings all the services at Bath Abbey;

Evensong is at 3.30pm on Sunday.

As this issue appears, on Tuesday August 18th, there is an event to support the Mission to Seafarers, which carries out the Anglican Church's ministry to seafarers and some will recall the stirring work for the crew of the ill fated vessel Napoli off our coast. At 3 Roselands Cottages Dolphin Street Colyton from 2-5pm there is a Great Tea to raise funds for this mission work.

This Friday Ottery St Mary Church hosts an organ concert starting at 7.30pm, for which tickets are £6. Call 01404 813964 for information.

St Andrew's Church Colyton has been offering a monthly Lunch for years now but this summer the lunches have been suspended, owing to a fall off in numbers. All are welcome and anyone can come along — prior booking in St Andrews Church is necessary.

Plans are being made to restart the lunches commencing with the fourth Thursday in November — if you are interested please telephone Pam Rattray on 552212.

Looking ahead Colyton Benefice Churches are offering a series of Bible Studies based on the letters of St Peter, please sign up in your nearest church.

Behind the scenes

AN Axminster business laid on drinks and nibbles — and offered customers a look behind the scenes to celebrate 40 years in business.

Axminster Printing Co Ltd was set up by Tony Rockett and his business partner Jim Sweetland all those years ago.

Both men were ably assisted by their wives, Audrey and Daphne respectively, and the business has remained in the same town centre location ever since.

Today the company is run by Tony and Audrey's children, Jane and Keith Rockett, who are both directors. Jane started work in the shop after leaving school in 1987, and Keith joined shortly afterwards.

"The shop looked really different when I started, it was just a long wooden chest with drawers in it", Jane recalls.

Printing techniques have also changed, Jane explains: "We still have lithographic machines but we also have a digital press which enables shorter runs of colourwork.

"We are doing jobs now that people wouldn't have contemplated before because of the cost of lithographic printing."

The birthday party was held on Tuesday, August 11th and among visitors were a team from Channel Info, a specialist publication for the UK office market.

Axminster Printing Co Ltd prints a wide variety of products including invoices, brochures, menus, posters, banners, business cards complimentary slips to mention only a few.

Online facility allows patients to rate hospitals

BY ANDERS LARSSON
anderson@tindlenews.co.uk

THOSE receiving treatment at east Devon hospitals are able to rate areas such as cleanliness, car parking and waiting times online.

The online rating facility includes the community hospitals at Axminster, Honiton, Ottery St Mary and Seaton.

Patients now have the right to choose when and where they get hospital treatment, so the scorecard can be used by patients who haven't decided where to have treatment.

Information on the site includes mortality rates, infection rates, cleanliness, staff performance and quality of food, as well as the views of people who have used the hospital's services.

Sally Slade, Devon Primary Care Trust's managing director of health and social care delivery, said: "Offering patients the option to rate their hospital gives them real power and puts them at the heart of the NHS."

It is an online facility only, so those without a computer are asked to visit a library or any other place where computers are available for members of the public.

Feedback will be monitored and any abuse, including naming of staff, will not be posted.

The rating facility can be accessed via www.nhs.uk

Council inspectors to look for obstructions

COUNTY council inspectors have given prior warning they will tour Devon looking for advertising boards obstructing pavements.

A similar raid was carried out in November last year when at least two Axminster businesses in Chard Street had signs that were wrapped over bollards confiscated and taken to a compound.

Councillor Stuart Hughes, Devon County Council Cabinet Member for Highways and Transportation, said: "Local businesses and traders have our utmost support, especially during these difficult economic times, but access and safety must be maintained.

"Illegal signs placed on public highways can be a danger to pedestrians, especially people who are disabled, partially sighted or with pushchairs.

"Signs can be an obstruction if they are not displayed in a safe manner which enables everyone to use the footways."

A county council spokesperson said the inspection will not apply to privately-owned pavements.

Open again for visitors

PROSPECT House in Axminster will again open its prize-winning gardens to the public as part of the National Gardens Scheme (NGS).

The last opening in early July raised nearly £1,000 for the charities sponsored by the NGS.

The gardens contain a vast array of unusual plants and are home to more than 200 varieties of salvias which were featured on BBC2's Gardeners World recently.

The gardens will be open on Saturday and Sunday, August 22nd and 23rd from 1.30pm to 5.30pm.

Prospect House is in Lyme Road and the entry fee is £3.

Charities supported by the NGS include Macmillan Cancer Support, Marie Curie Cancer Care, Crossroads - Caring for Carers, and local charities nominated by garden owners in the respective areas.

Cryostorm consists of five members aged between 18 and 25, who all live in or around Axminster.

The band's singer is Rich Marley, who said: "Our new Ep, Vivify, is being released on the same day as the regional final for Surface Unsigned at Bristol O2 Academy — two big occasions for the band."

They were first of the three chosen bands from seven who had reached the semi-final. And if they get through the regional final they will perform at the national final at the O2 Arena in London.

The band is made up of experienced musicians, educated at the Academy of Music and Sound in Exeter.

More information about the band can be found at www.myspace.com/cryostormband

GREENSLADE Taylor Hunt has run a successful property lettings division for many years throughout their offices in the South West.

The Lettings Department within the Honiton office has been open for ten months now and has gone from strength to strength.

ARLA trained Felicity Beecroft took on the management of existing rental properties, along with developing the new office as a whole. The department has successfully let a variety of local properties from Dorset and across East Devon. Felicity commented, "It's been a wonderful start to the new set up and finally having a lettings section running directly from our offices in the High Street has provided a more practical and efficient service for both landlords and tenants. The busy 10 months has flown by and I feel the Honiton Lettings Department has developed excellent relationships with new landlords throughout the local area. We also have an extensive list of applicants searching for rental property."

Buyer demand remains strong during summer

June, July and August are traditionally quieter times in the house hunting calendar – but not this year!

“Normally we see a peak of applicants registering with us in March and then activity reduces significantly as the summer approaches but this year the tail-off has been virtually non-existent,” says Phil Roberts of Fox and Sons in Axminster.

Independent evidence from Rightmove, the country's leading property portal, backs up this trend. It has reported a record number of visitors to its site during July, recording its highest number of weekly page impressions ever, and all the signs are that August will continue in the same vein.

“We are selling more than twice as many properties as last year – nationally our July sales were up 133% on July 2008 – and at the moment we can't take on enough to meet demand. As long as they are well presented and correctly priced, homes are selling quickly, some within days, or even hours, of becoming available,” continues Phil. “There is always a surge in properties coming onto the market in late September when the school holidays end but astute sellers should be thinking about taking action now to take advantage of the number of people currently looking to buy.”

To arrange a free market appraisal and find out more about the local property market contact your local Fox and Sons branch on 01297 32323 or call into the office at West Street.

Letting Go:The Benefits of a Qualified Inventory Provider

THE requirement for excellent inventory taking was brought into sharp focus with the introduction of compulsory tenancy deposit protection. This led to the creation, under the NFOPP umbrella, of the Association of Professional Inventory Providers (APIP – www.apip.org).

This is not a normal inventory, it is an in-depth schedule of condition supported by dated, photographic evidence and inventory carried out by a fully qualified member. To ensure this evidence is valid and impartial should any dispute arise at the end of a tenancy. This promises issues are solved quickly as visual evidence provided by a qualified professional avoids ambiguity and carries more weight than the usual inventory.

If you are a landlord, letting your property – think of it as added security. This is because as the tenancy begins, both parties sign to agree the condition at the beginning of the tenancy, leaving no room for doubts from either party regarding the property condition upon vacation.

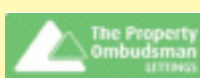

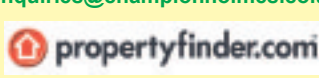

The benefits of having this in place relieve the pressure of what has commonly been known to be a bad experience, loaded with doubt, disagreement and dispute. The evidence truly speaks for itself, and provides protection for both landlord and tenant so you can both relax safe in the knowledge that everything is documented and agreed.

Karen Champion, of ChampionHolmes is currently the only fully qualified member of the Association of Professional Inventory Providers in Devon.

If you are an independent landlord and would like to discuss the preparation of a schedule of condition for your forthcoming tenancy, please do not hesitate to contact ChampionHolmes. Telephone: 01297 20080. Email: enquiries@championholmes.co.uk or visit our web site at www.championholmes.co.uk

Local pub reaches finals of industry 'Oscars'

THE Wheelwright Inn, Colyford, has cause for celebration after reaching the finals of the industry's 'Oscars', the Great British Pub Awards, and a chance to win the national title of Best Food Pub, announced next month.

Licencees Gary and Toni Valentine have much to be proud of already. The Great British Pub Awards, run by drinks industry 'bible' the Morning Advertiser, are the ultimate accolade in pub retailing and competition for a finals placing is intense. Following a 'paper' judging and a visit from an industry expert, The Wheelwright Inn has been named as the Best Food Pub in the West Country. Along with the seven other regional finalists, Gary and Toni will be waiting with bated breath for the national winner to be revealed at a glittering Awards ceremony in London on September 9th.

Paul Charity, editor of the Morning Advertiser, said, "It is heartening to find such a wonderful success story when there has been little good news about pubs recently. This is proof that talented, hard-working landlords and landladies can still attract customers wanting to experience the unique atmosphere of the Great British Pub. They thoroughly deserve this public recognition of their achievement."

The judges were impressed with The Wheelwright Inn's outstanding food, commenting, "A great food pub should offer customers high quality food at affordable prices, in a traditional pub environment. It is to the pub's credit that they have achieved this, and created an excellent reputation for their food."

■ AWARD WINNERS: Toni and Gary Valentine, licencees of The Wheelwright Inn, Colyford, named as Best Food Pub in the West Country in the Great British Pub Awards 2009

The Old Inn set to host Hog roast and mini beer festival

Taking place on Saturday, August 29th, The Old Inn offer their standard four ales (including Otter Ale), plus five guest ales, and all real ales will cost £2 per pint. The Hog roast, including a buffet and dessert will cost £6.50 per seprson, or £4.50 for under 12s.

The evening starts at 6.30pm, and will continue until 11pm.

The Wheelwright Inn

An idyllic 17th-century thatched cottage is home to the Wheelwright Inn, an exemplary dining pub in the pretty village of Colyford. Gary Valentine and his wife, Toni, have put their heart and soul into this place, and a year ago they refurbished the pub giving it a whole new lease of life.

We can cater for all your special occasions, from weddings to corporate conferences, in our private dining room. We can also provide tailor-made menus to suit your special event.

More economical, more practical: the new Golf Plus BlueMotion

- ▼ New 1.6-litre engine returns 65.7 mpg; CO2 emissions down to 114 g/km
- ▼ Typical customer will only need to refuel every five weeks
- ▼ Start/Stop and regenerative braking systems boost economy package
- ▼ BlueMotion premium of just £325 over equivalent standard Golf Plus
- ▼ Volkswagen has revealed pricing and details of its latest BlueMotion model, the Golf Plus. The new model offers all the practicality and comfort of the new standard Golf
- ▼ Plus which went on sale in May, but with even greater economy and lower carbon dioxide emissions. Prices start at £17,570 RRP 'on the road' for the Golf Plus BlueMotion S, rising to £18,920 for the SE; that's just £325 more than the equivalent standard Golf Plus S and SE models.

USING the latest 1.6-litre common rail TDI 105 PS engine combined with a number of BlueMotion modifications, the Golf Plus BlueMotion is capable of returning 65.7 mpg on the combined cycle while emitting just 114 g/km of CO2. By comparison, the previous generation Golf Plus BlueMotion with a 1.9-litre TDI engine and 105 PS returned 58.9 mpg while producing 127 g/km; that's an 11 per cent improvement in economy and a ten per cent reduction in carbon dioxide emissions.

The new Golf Plus BlueMotion's CO2 emissions figure of 114 g/km allows it to break the 121 g/km threshold, saving fleet drivers up to £1,000 in Benefit in Kind tax over a three year period. The car's economy statistics mean, in real terms, that a Golf Plus BlueMotion owner could take a trip from London to the Lake District, enjoy 200 miles-worth of day trips while there, and return to London before having to refuel. Put another way, a buyer covering under 8,000 miles a year – which is typical of more than a half of Golf Plus customers – need only fill up with fuel once every five weeks.

This frugality is thanks to a number of BlueMotion modifications including revised gear ratios in third, fourth and fifth, the addition of low rolling resistance tyres, a Start/Stop function and regenerative braking. The Start/Stop system allows the engine to shut down completely when the car is at a standstill before automatically restarting as soon as the clutch is depressed, ready to engage first gear and move off. Regenerative braking helps to utilise energy that would otherwise be lost during braking, so that in deceleration and braking phases the alternator's voltage is boosted and used for bulk recharging of the car's battery.

The Golf Plus BlueMotion is available in two trim levels, S and SE, and its standard features are the same as on these standard models. Owners therefore benefit from ABS with ESP, six airbags, air conditioning, a CD player and multi-function computer – with the addition of gearchange recommendation on BlueMotion for maximum economy. SE adds Park Assist to ease parallel parking manoeuvres, cruise control and alloy wheels. All Golf Plus diesel models have a standard Diesel Particulate Filter.

The new model is available to order now with the first cars arriving in October.

BOWLS ROUND-UP

HONITON PAIR IN COUNTY OVER 70S QUARTER-FINAL

SEATON with Dave Ford

SINCE August 1st seven fixtures have been cancelled, six of them at home, either by bad weather, or opponents not being able to raise a team for various reasons.

Nobody can change the weather, but this second problem seems to be happening more frequently in recent years, which is worrying, as it is the home games that clubs rely on to bring in the necessary income needed to pay the many expenses incurred by all clubs.

On a happier note, there have been some excellent days bowling during the last fortnight, some of them in brilliant sunshine.

On Friday, August 7th Seaton hosted the Perham Cup, with six local bowls clubs each sending one rink of men to compete against six from Seaton.

On the green it was the Lyme Regis rink that shone the brightest, with Bob Turpin, Brian Downes, Philip Stevens and Alan Preece winning the event with a +22 scoreline.

The Budleigh rink was second with a +15 score. After being presented with the Cup and individual trophies, the winners and runners-up were photographed on the green, so that pictures could be sent to the sons of Alfred Perham, in whose memory the Cup was presented to Seaton Bowling Club.

They have continued to sponsor this event since the death of their mother, for which the club officers and members sincerely thank them.

Tourists from Dunstable visited Seaton on August 11th, another glorious day, and proved to be too strong for the Seaton players on four of the six rinks winning overall by 143-91. Our captain said it was a friendly afternoon's bowling, although the score (no I won't print it) on his rink, was shall we say was a little one-sided.

Two rinks of Seaton players flew the flag for the club, each winning by one shot. They were: Audrey White, Nancy Collins, Mike Follenfant and Keith Miles 24-23, and Keith Harris, Alice Carter, Gerald Knott and Rhonda Follenfant 19-18.

The over 60s continue to prosper, winning on both rinks at home to Pines Gardens 35-

20, and overall against Belmont 43-32.

The two top rinks were K. Richards, G. Knott and Ivor Steer 19-10, and M. Follenfant, P. Greenwood and R. Woolland 29-11. This pushes Seaton up to second place in the table, with three games to play, one away against the runaway leaders Topsham. With 24 points still at stake, second place is still in the melting pot.

Three ladies rinks played a friendly against an Oxford Masonic B.A. Touring side winning 76-34. Top rink - A. Wright, A. Carter, O. Real and Joan Miles showed no mercy to their opponents 26-10 the score.

Captain Angie reported that another evening match against Feniton Ladies away, was as equally successful as the home game played recently, and enjoyed by every one taking part. Unimportantly the result went Seaton's way 66-52 with top rink B. Powell, R. Gregory, J. Russell and R. Follenfant winning 29-13.

Four rinks of men playing away at Sidmouth, lost by one shot 71-72, a huge improvement on their last encounter with our friendly rivals. Top rink A. Green, J. Packham, T. Harden and R. Thompson 19-15.

FENITON with Roger Smith

PLAYING at home against four rinks from Feniton, the Seaton men won 85-64, with M. Carvell, P. Mattocks, G. Knott and R. Thompson the top rink 28-12.

THE Feniton Men's over 60s B team lost a re-arranged fixture to Tiverton by 35-42. The winning rink was E. Goodenough, T. Young and L. Ley, who came back from being 12-20 with three ends to play to win by 25-20.

On Tuesday the Feniton Mixed team lost a most enjoyable match against Budleigh Salterton by 97-129. The winning rinks were E. Goodenough, J. Skinner, F. Imms and A. Evans 23-16 and C. Cheesely, S. Nevill, E. Tuck and R. Smith 19-17.

On Wednesday both the A and B teams were in action in the over 60s triples competition. Both teams returned to form with the A team beating Okehampton by 46-27. The winning rinks were E. Cox, M. Chipperfield and A. Williams 26-15 and A. Smith, R. Smith and R.

Arundell 20-12. The B team won a close encounter with Tiverton West End A by 29-28.

The winning rink was F. Jones, A. Godfrey and D. Conbeer 16-15, the other rink being tied.

On Wednesday evening the Ladies team entertained Seaton and lost by 52-66. The winning rink was P. Usher, J. Lovell, J. Rowles and L. Eveleigh 21-19 with one of the other two rinks being tied.

Thursday saw the Mixed team visit Tiverton Borough and lose by 91-105. The winning rinks were A. Edwards, G. Skinner and R. Smith 24-16, M. Eveleigh, J. Skinner and R. Arundell 17-13 and S. Nevill, J. Rowles and L. Ley 13-12.

The Ladies Triples team of L. Eveleigh, J. Edwards and C. Granger reached the last sixteen of the Benevolent Triples Competition.

The winners of the Club three wood mixed pairs were S. Kury and M. Eveleigh. The runners-up were L. Eveleigh and A. Kury.

CHARDSTOCK

ON Thursday 13th August, the visitors were Queen Camel for a four rink mixed match.

A fine victory for Chardstock by three rinks to one, and overall 80 shots to 59, continued a good run of recent results.

Chardstock (Skips only): M. Sturley won 23-8, P. Compton won 20-13, J. Tucker lost 17-23 and M. Toms won 20-15.

HONITON with Tony Broughton

THE County President visited Honiton on Tuesday this week, bringing six rinks to play against a side made up from Clubs playing in the Exeter & District Over 60s League.

This time his side were the underdogs with the over 60s side winning by 123 shots to 94.

The top rink for the over 60s comprised John Ritchie, Ken Clarke, Ken Large and George Selvey from the Honiton Club with a score of 27-9.

On Wednesday Jean Mitchell and Rita Barwick won the Section Final of the County Ladies over 70s pairs competition to take them to the Quarter/Semi Finals to be held at Bovey Tracy tomorrow, August 19th.

They have already beaten Jean Brimson and Christa Turner from Sidmouth whom were last year's winners of this competition, so hopes now go on for them to bring the trophy back to Honiton.

Thursday saw a Touring Side from Dunstable, Bedfordshire visit Honiton with six very strong rinks. This side had beaten the three other Devon Clubs they had played, but their winning spree came to an end at Streamers Meadow when Honiton won 122-110. Top rink was Jean Mitchell, Ted Cox, Sid Hattam and Dennis Hillyear at 27-14.

Friday four mixed pairs came from Axminster and unfortunately all four were beaten.

Our one game wonder came out of the closet and won top rink. Joan Heard, who was playing in her first friendly match of the season steered her rink of Ken Underdown, Lindsay Crosthwaite and Ted Cox to a large 36-11 win.

On Saturday 16 ladies arrived to play in a Competition for the Betty Dibble Plate.

In this game drawn pairs play four ends on one rink, the winners move up one rink and all play another four ends and so on. The runners-up with plus nine shots were Berry Maynard and Maureen Parsons the winners with plus 18 shots were Jenny Wilde and Chris Nex (see picture below).

The hopes of improvement for the over 60s League B team were dashed this Wednesday when they went away to Madeira, the top team in Division Three.

Ken Clarke, Bill Sheerman and Mike Critchley managed to draw on their rink but the other rink went down by nine shots. So, only one point from the eight available, this is not going to help their relegation prospects.

The A team did well at home to Dunkseswell taking six of the eight points

Top rink was Fred Dart, Doug Hiron and John Lyon with 25-5. The C team forced a draw and took four points at home to Exonia winning one rink by six and losing the other by six, the winning rink was Tony Tooley, Wally Heard and George Selvey.

The week finished well with a trip for six triples to Tiverton Borough. It was a super afternoon out, the green played well and the company was excellent.

Honiton finished winners at 109-88 our top rink was Roger Willcocks, Maureen Parsons and Mike Critchley with 18-7.

TWO TEAMS DROP OUT

PRE-SEASON FOOTBALL NEWS with Colin Goodwin.

THE Exmouth Arms have withdrawn from the Devon & Exeter Football League after just one season.

The Division Nine side who played their matches at the Royal Marine base at nearby Lymington were relegated in their first season, and have advised the League they are unable to continue.

The 'Arms' are the second Devon & Exeter League side to call it a day following Oakwood's decision last week to withdraw from Division Four.

A third Intermediate team in East Devon is also on the brink of folding, but are currently doing their best to stay above water.

Premier clubs in the Devon & Exeter League had until last Saturday to register 11 players in time for next weekend's big kick-off.

League rules insist that club's must register a minimum of eleven players a week before their first league match, and several Premier clubs were leaving it very late according to Registration secretary Mrs Jean Barding.

Senior and Intermediate clubs do not get under way until September 5th, so they have a much longer time to get the job done.

However Mrs Barding has advised club secretaries that many are not putting enough postage on their registration packages. As a result the Post Office are retaining the envelopes until Jean can collect them.

As she doesn't drive, Jean has to catch the bus into the main delivery Post Office in Exeter, then pay for the relevant packages and then rebill the clubs for the cost.

The other danger is that the delay means players may not be registered in time, and as the League's Insurance covers friendly games as well, this could be crucial. The good news is that as Jean is a Senior citizen she can use her bus pass, but she would prefer not to have to make the journey.

Two clubs have changed their names this season and are hoping it will change their fortunes. Five Star security from Exeter have until now been operating as Oak FC, but by changing their name to that of their sponsors new secretary Dean Wills and former manager Ian Moore are hoping it will inspire the club in Division eight to gain promotion for the first time.

Amory Park Rangers from Tiverton are the Reserve team of Amory Argyle, but feared they would not get promotion from Division Nine if their main side failed to go up as well. Subsequently Amory have gone solo, and it will be more than interesting to see how they fare.

The Devon & Exeter League have advised that their Handbooks will be out next week. There has been a binding problem at the printers, which has held matters up, but that should be resolved by midweek.

Premier clubs and referees will be the first to get their handbooks. Senior and Intermediate clubs may have to wait a second week.

Ray Lloyd the FA Licenced Referee Instructor in the Exeter area has warned players that the latest directive from FIFA and the FA is that for the Season 2009/10 Law Four must be implemented fully in relation to jewellery at all levels.

A player must not use equipment or wear anything that is dangerous to himself or another player (including any kind of jewellery).

The practice of taping up wedding rings or ear-rings is no longer acceptable, all jewellery must be removed and cannot be worn.

The bottom line is if the ring or ear-rings cannot be removed then the player cannot play.

Ray Lloyd would ask all Referees to enforce this as required by LOAF and all Clubs and Managers to ensure that all their players are aware of this and comply.

Borgeat on form

LYME REGIS GOLF with Duncan Driver.

A RELATIVELY quiet week here at the club was met with some fantastic weekend weather.

Regatta Stableford SUNSHINE greeted the men on Sunday who set out on the Annual Regatta Stableford, the eventual Divisional winners and 2nd and 3rd places all managed to beat their handicaps by at least two, and in Kieran Borgeat's case, he managed to shatter his handicap by six points and win Division One with 42 points.

Mike Warren will feel hard done by having narrowly missed out on getting cut to single figures and losing out on top spot on count back but still a great 42 points from the club regular.

Third place in Division One went to A Richardson with a great score of 41.

Division Two was won by J.B. Lawrence with a steady score of 38. This was matched by two players in Division Two with T. Baker taking 2nd place and B. Styles finishing off in third.

ishing off in third.

Ladies Section with Ellie Langford

THE August Medal and Grannies Shield were played mostly in the rain after the weatherman promised sunshine this resulted in the course playing long.

Not everyone found the conditions difficult, Anne Humphreys won the Grannies Shield and the Division One medal with a net 70 cutting her handicap to eight thus making her ambition of remaining in single figures until her 70th birthday next month much more likely.

Runner-up was Anita Holmes with a net 73 who also cut her handicap by one to 18.

Winner of Division Two was Lila Lambert who cut her handicap from 23 to 21, with

Sassy Hay finished as runner-up scoring a net 74 and a handicap reduction of one shot to 26

Division Three was won by Pat Jenkins with a net 84, runner-up was Jean Forbes-Harris with net 85.

In sultry conditions which were to sorely test the stamina of umpires Grant and Shepherd, Honiton won the toss and chose to bat first, their opening pair of Pete Beighton and Tom Strawbridge reunited in facing up to the testing pace of Clarke and White.

3RD PLACE FOR KEEFE

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

with Dave Mutter

ON Wednesday night the first running of the Dalwood Fayre 10k took place and with 63 runners on the start line it looks set to be a popular and regular event.

Honiton RC's Kevin Hawker led the way home finishing in 40:34. From the start Chris Keefe and Bernard Fry started to push the pace, unfortunately a knee injury meant that Bernard had to pull out. We hope he gets better soon.

Chris who was once again racing against Chard RCs Neil Plumridge managed to pull away and was very pleased to finish 3rd in 44:10, walking away with a very nice silver plate. Ian Apps was next in, he performed well and finished 8th in 48:38. Mark Hilder was pleased with his result and reported to have had a nice race. He finished 14th with 52:21.

Chris Irving really enjoyed the run and produced a fine result finishing 18th with a time of 53:46. Steve Reynolds has been racing rather a lot recently and really picked up some pace to come in 20th in 54:38. Tim Sibley enjoyed his second race going faster here than he did at Haselbury.

He finished 34th in 56:57. John Greenhalgh choose to pick this for his first race, a possible mistake as it is a tough course, but he performed terrifically and really enjoyed it finishing 49th in 1:05:59.

Finishing at the famous Tuckers Arms pub a pint was a good choice as curry was available for £2 to runners, so many were devoured with great aplomb.

Also on Wednesday Luke Reed and Harry Moore ran their 5th race of the six in this year's Yeovil 5K summer series, a somewhat flatter event. Luke achieved a new PB in each of the first four races and this race was to be no different.

He finished 14th in 17:19 and Harry was 164th in 39:30.

Luke, who is very pleased with his progress over the series, is looking forward to the last race on September 9th.

HAWKER TAKES DALWOOD TITLE

HONITON RUNNING CLUB

with Alan Nicholls.

HONITON runners had the choice of two races last Wednesday evening.

There was a fast flat 5k at Yeovilton and a hard, hilly 10k at Dalwood.

Both races have their merits and it was down to personal preference which athletes ran at which event.

Dalwood lies in a valley and the only way out seems to be up long hills but despite this the race was an enjoyable mix of road and country and as it was a circular route there must have been as much down as up - but it never feels like it.

The runners set off at a steady trot up the first mile long hill and were soon strung out along the road.

Honiton star runner Kevin Hawker hung back for a while and watched the leaders push up the first hill before making a move which was to prove decisive.

Kevin steadily moved past the early contenders and ran away from the front and extended his lead throughout the race to finish in a pleasing 40.34.

Richard Harris seems to improve every race and also seems to enjoy the hills.

His seventh place finish in 48.22 led home the rest of the Honiton runners who crossed the line to applause every minute or so.

Bruce Strawbridge finished well in ninth with 49.04 and Vernon Gillard was just behind, 11th in 50.05. Judy Davey was next home in 17th with 53.25 well clear of John Burgess in 29th place who shared the same time as Nick Thorpe in 30th of 56.12.

David Gage was just one place and three seconds down on this pair. Alan Nicholls enjoyed the run but just missed the hour in 42nd place with 61.51 while Pete Lyus ran well in 46th with 64.04.

Gerry Evans also finished in a respectable 66.11 but the best finishing sprint of the race was reserved by Tracey Strawbridge who had obviously been inspired by Usain Bolt as she blasted the last hundred metres to the tape.

A thoroughly enjoyable race was had by all which ended at the pub with a curry supper.

Meanwhile at Yeovilton the speed merchants were testing their anaerobic fitness with a lung-bursting flat 5k burn-up.

James Denne pushed himself to 4th place with a 20 second improvement on his July run in 16.05.

Brian Charters improved his best performance to 17.29 in 15th while Milan Goc is also pushing the envelope with a 10 second improvement to 17.46 in 20th. While husband Kevin was winning at Dalwood his wife Heather made the Yeovilton trip and posted an excellent time of 18.07 for 29th which is a good turn of speed for someone who will be doing the Commonwealth 100km champs at Keswick in a few weeks time.

The next two home must have had a good battle as they were only two seconds apart. Gary Enticott finished 68th in 20.48 while young Tom Dun was next home in 20.50.

Brent Dicks has run all five races at Yeovilton this year and has improved at each one.

This time he chipped another 41 seconds from his time and finished 71st in 21.01 so the pressure is on next month for him to finish the season in style with a sub 21 minute performance.

Marion Broom was the final Honiton runner across the line in 89th place.

Marion is a very consistent runner and posted her fifth consecutive 22 minute time with 22.41 this outing.

Maybe she will hang on to Brent next time and they will both get a sub 21.

CHALLIS OFF AS TWO GOAL LEAD IS SQUANDERED

AXMINSTER TOWN 2

TOTNES & DARTINGTON 2

AXMINSTER Town were without their new signing from Bridport - defender Chris Herbst (high strain) and striker Sam Dibling, who has broken bone in his foot, for the visit of Totnes & Dartington the opening day of the South-West Peninsula League Season.

The Tigers scored in the 20th minute when midfielder Alex Wheatlys split open the Totnes defence and young striker Richie Emmett scored his first goal of the season planting his shot into the back of the net with a well-taken goal.

Although there wasn't much between the two teams, Alex Wheatly again sent a through ball to over-lapping defender Michael Hancock who surged down the right flank before volleying the ball home to make it 2-0 at half time.

The visitors got back into the game when, in the 65th minute, James Wotton scored to make it 2-1 and ten minutes later Ryan Hare headed in from close range.

The Tigers did well to get back in the game and Emmett latched onto a square pass by debutant midfielder Dominic McAllister before being upended by a Totnes defender.

Unfortunately neither the referee or linesman saw to incident much to the annoyance of the Axminster fans. To add to their woes centre back Richard Challis was sent-off for his protests.

Axminster were disappointed not to have taken all three points with the Man of the Match award going to promising new signing 17 year old defender Dan Jewel.

Axminster are at home to Alphington next Saturday, kick-off is 3pm.

Local riders do well at National Championships

LAMBERTS Castle Riding Club sent two Junior teams to the eventing championships held at Aston Le Walls, near Daventry, on Friday, August 7th to compete against teams from all over Scotland, Wales and England.

Both teams did extremely well and both were placed.

The Junior Novice team of: Jessica Rogers on Woetska, Kate Sopwith on Spotty Harry, Sophie Benger on McCoy and Olivia Benger on Private Audience came fifth out of 23 teams.

Both Olivia Benger and Jessica Rogers were also placed fifth in their sections - a very good result.

The Junior Intermediate Team of: Olivia Benger on Rascal, Billie Ann Warren on Country Rally, Tim Rogers on Corrieview Thomas and Jessica Rogers on Rangeview Solo also came in an impressive fifth place.

Olivia Benger finished fifth in her section, Tim Rogers sixth in his section, and Jessica Rogers sixth in her section.

The results were especially good considering the going, and changes to the scheduled event.

The area had four inches of rain in 24 hours on the Thursday into Friday morning and therefore had to cancel the cross country phase of the event.

In its place the organisers put on an extra round of show jumping, this made the dressage phase more influential especially in the Junior Novice.

In the intermediate, the second show jumping round proved to be influential in the team and individual results.

The Lamberts Castle Riding Club are very proud of their members achieving such good results.

The club always welcomes new members, for more details ring the club secretary Irene Robinson on 01460 220387.
